DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 31-35 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4/26/2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hunter (5684760).
2. The reference discloses a circuit for measuring timing uncertainties in a clock signal, said circuit comprising: a local clock buffer 5 receiving a global clock at input 4 (col. 2, line 3) and providing a local clock to circuits 1 and 7; a delay line 1 (col. 1, line 65) receiving said local clock, said local clock traversing said delay line and being provided as an output at output taps along said traversed delay line (col. 2, lines 9-10); and a register 7 clocked by said local clock and capturing the state of said output taps

(col. 2, line 15), progression of said local clock through said delay line being captured in said register.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hunter. Regarding claim 2, the reference lacks a description of the length of delay line 1. However, it would be obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to design delay line 1 of a suitable length to measure time intervals of a corresponding width. A length of at least 3 global clock cycles would be one of such obvious choices to ensure sufficient size for measurement of at least one period of a time interval.

4. With respect to claim 3, delay line taps 1 are evenly spaced along said delay line (see col. 1, line 66) . Further, it is inherent in the logic design of delay line 1 that clock edges in the delay line will be identified by a matched state at a pair of adjacent delay line taps, as the clock propagates through each stage of the delay.

5. Claims 4-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 20-30 are allowed.
